

Mitchell WIENER,

International development; social security system design, financing and reform; pensions and health insurance;

The World Bank

Duke University

Mitchell Wiener is an American pension actuary with more than 35 years of domestic and international experience. He is a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries (FSA, 1981) and an Enrolled Actuary (EA, 1983). Mitchell works with governments in developing countries to create, install, reform, design and administer social security programs including pensions, savings programs, health and life insurance. He also works with financial regulators on supervision of public and private pension and insurance programs and companies. In addition, he assists with the development of the actuarial profession in the countries where he works and assists the government with the development of actuarial and risk management capacity.